Was not that Thunder?

A terrible and withering blast has swept down to the White House from the Pennsylvania Alleghenies, imparting to Mr. Buchanan the most calamitous results of the late Election, so far as his own party in his own State is concerned. Pennsylvania has been, certainly for the last thirty years, one of the most staunch and undeviating upholders of the modern "Democracy" of any of the Free States. Jackson--Van Buren--Polk--Pierce--Buchanan--the last her own "favorite son"--all these Presidents if we mistake not, received their powerful support, even though their Tariff policy did not always seem to favor the development of her vast mineral and other industrial resources.

But now, in the second year of her own Buchanan's administration, a change, a marked and marvelous change, has come over the spirit of her dream. The Pennsylvania delegation in the present Congress, House of Reps. chosen two years ago, stands 15 Democratic, 10 opposition. In the last week's election, the position of parties in this particular, has been more than reversed--the Opposition having now carried above 20 of the Representatives, and elected their State ticket by thirty or forty thousand majority.

"What can the matter be?"--What secret and powerful cause has been in operation in the Keystone State, to have produced such a strange result? It is but a few brief months--only since the adjournment of Congress--since the Buchanan papers and oracles were jubilant and gleeful in their exultations over the assumed fact, that the Kansas question has been effectually and forever settled by the passage of the infamous English bribery bill; and thus, as they contended, all chances of further agitation being destroyed, the Republican party would soon cease to exist--in fact, it was already practically dead and gone to the dogs. So said the leading journals and partisans of the administration, with Herald's Herald for a trumpet, and the Washington Union for an official organ.

Did these malignable and false-hearted journals speak wisely? Did they prophesy truly in regard to the Republican party? Or did they largely misrepresent the men and measures, the principles and objects of that organization? Is the Republican party dissolved, or withdrawn from the field? Does it look so, in Pennsylvania and Ohio? Answer that, ye perverters of the truth!

There is, however, one thing that has exerted no small influence upon the result in Pennsylvania. The war waged upon Senator Douglas, by the Washington Union, for the stand he has maintained against the Lecompton villainy has disgusted and driven off an immense mass of those who had been previous supporters of Mr. Buchanan's administration. Of this fact, there is no room for any reasonable doubt.

DEATH OF REV. MR. SAWYER, AT THE AGE OF 103.--The Bangor papers bring us intelligence of the death of Rev. Father Sawyer, of that city, at the age of one hundred and three years and four days. He was probably the oldest clergyman in the United States.

"This aged veteran and Christian died on the 14th inst., about 9 o'clock, at the great age of 103 years and four days. He was born in Lebanon, Conn., on the 9th of October, 1755. At the age of 22 he entered the army and was present at the capture of Burgoyne. In 1785 he graduated at Dartmouth, two years afterwards he settled at Oxford, N. H. There he remained until 1793. For the past half century his field of labor has been in Bangor and vicinity. He was one of the founders of the Bangor Theological Seminary."

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.--Constance F. Daniels, Esq., late editor of the New London Chronicle, died in that city on the 20th inst., aged 59 years. He was a man of more than ordinary ability, and large experience in editorial life. The Chronicle is draped in mourning as a token of respect.

An immense organ is now building at Boston, by Messrs. Simmons & Wileok for St. John's Church, Albany. (It is the organ) to be 40 feet wide, 60 feet high, and 34 feet deep; some of the pipes being 32 feet in length.

To prevent a kitchen door from creaking, get a servant girl whose beam comes to the eye to see her. It is as good as a tub of grease, though not always so economical.

The heart of a young girl is like a nest where the little swallow chirps, shows its head, tries its wings, and watches the favorite moment to fly.

Why is an old chair, that has a new bottom put to it, like a paid bill? Because it is recanted (receipted).

How to banish reflection.--Turn the looking-glass to the wall.

LOCAL NEWS.

Our New Office.

Having succeeded, by dint of hard tugging, and at the expense of sundry cuts, bruises, rents and embrocatures on our persons and clothing, in the removal of our goods, chattels, fixtures, &c. connected with the publication of the Daily News and Weekly Journal, to our new office, 123 Thames Street, it is, perhaps, meet that we should do or say something by way of inaugurating the new premises. But what shall we do? Should we invite all our friends to come with us to the improved appearance of things and should they all accept, the wine of a hundred wine stores would not suffice, there are so many. What shall we say? Ah! saying is so much easier a matter than doing, that we shall have very little difficulty in that respect.

We have in our new location, a good office, yea we may say a capital one. Our friends and patrons will no longer be obliged to climb tickety stairs as steep as a ladder in order to reach us. We have secured a location handy to the street, as well as in the very centre of business. The two rooms comprising our counting room and sanctum are spacious, convenient and pleasant. The former commands a full view of the principal street in the city, and from its windows we can look down upon the busy world passing beneath, seeing some things that are grave, some that are funny, and some that are neither one nor the other.

From the windows of our sanctum, which is in the rear portion of the building, we have a magnificent view of--Finch & Jags' lumber yard, and when we tire of contemplating the picturesque beauties of spruce, pine and hemlock, in slabs, we can look beyond, out upon the harbor, and when we have nothing better to do, count the vessels that come into the harbor from above. We have also from the same windows a fine view of the elegant mansion provided by Government for the residence of the Light keeper on Goat Island.

To conclude, we cordially invite all our friends to call on us in our new office. They will always find the "lute-string" out and will generally find us as at all events they will be welcome, especially such as have a "small account" to settle, with the balance in our favor.

The Colonial Records of Newport.

CHAPTER IV.
The Choice of Elders--The offices of Constable and Sergeant created--First Cases before the Judge and Elders--The Great Cove--The "Albany"--Bound for Castle Institution--Separation from Portsmouth.

The laws of the Colony had hitherto been administered by a Town, with the advice and co-operation of the "Body." As these duties multiplied and the affairs of the Colony became more complicated, the necessity for a special organization of assistants became apparent. Consequently at a meeting held on the 2d of December, 1638, Nicholas Eison, John Coggeshall and William Beenton were chosen Elders, "to assist the Judge in the Execution of Justice and Judgment for the regulating and ordering of all offences and offenders: And for the drawing up and determining of all such Rules and Laws as shall be according to God, which may conduce to the Good and Welfare of the Commonwealth. And to them is committed by the Body the whole care and charge of all the affairs thereof. And that the Judge together with the Elders shall Rule and Govern according to the General Rule of the word of God, when they have no particular rule from God's word by the Body prescribed as a direction unto them in the case." &c. &c. Thus was organized the first Court for the trial of offences against the laws, in existence in the Colony. The same day the following matters were committed unto them by the Body: "To deal with Wm. Aspinwall concerning his default, and also concerning Invasions fornic and domestic, as also the determination of Military discipline, and the disposing of the lands, as well the house lots and impositions."

At the next meeting, on the 24th of the same month, the offices of Constable and Sergeant were created, differing very little in the duties pertaining to them from the same offices now. Samuel Willmore was chosen Constable and Henry Bull Sergeant. At the same meeting it was "ordered that the prison formerly agreed upon shall be proceeded withal, and finished; and that Mr. Eison shall assist Mr. Beenton in the works, and then that it be set near or joined unto the house of Henry Bull, Sergeant."

The first Court held by the "Judge and Elders" was on the 7th of February, 1639. There were three cases, as follows: 1. Richard Mason, Blacksmith, upon complaint made against him, was accordingly decreed off by his oppression in the way of his trade, who being continued thereof, promised amendment and satisfaction. 2. Osmound Douth, upon complaint and information against him concerning the age and wrong done by him, promised to give satisfaction when his account shall be produced, and thereupon bond taken of him with the engagement of his Shallop to the performance of the same. 3. Mr. Aspinwall being a suspected person for station against the State, it was thought meet that a stay of the building of his State should be made; whereupon his workmen were forbidden to proceed any further.

Stanton and Osmound Douth were admitted as Inhabitants. At a meeting held on the 21st of February, there was granted to Mr. Samuel Willmore "the neck of Land lying in the Great Cove, containing about two acres or thereabouts, one corner whereof butting upon Sergeant Hutchinson's, and lying North-east and Southwest, joining to the Maine of the Island." The "neck of land" referred to here, must have been at "the Point" above Long Wharf, now forming a portion of Washington Street.

At the next meeting of the "Body," held the 6th of April, among other items of business was the following: "It is ordered, that in regard to the many Invasions that the Island is subject unto, and that an Alarm for the securing the place is necessary therefore; it is thought meet for the present that an Alarm be appointed to give notice to all who inhabit the place, that they may forthwith repair and gather together to the house of the Judge for the defending of the Island or quelling of Invasions that shall be tumultuously rised within the Plantation. Therefore, the Alarm that we appoint shall be this: Three Muskets to be discharged distinctly, and a Herald appointed to go spreading through the Town and cry Alarm, Alarm! Upon which, all are to repair immediately to the place aforesaid."

At the same meeting it was "ordered, that a place for ye impounding of Cattle shall be made and sett up in some convenient place of each Town."

On the 28th of April, "Upon the complaint of Jeffrey Champlin in the behalfe of a debt due to William Cowley and himself from Mr. Aspinwall, warrant was granted forth, for the attachment of his shallop till both that debt and other actions of the case be satisfied and discharged by him."

This closes the records of Newport in connection with the town of Portsmouth (afterwards so called,) as the Newport Colony separated at this time. This Colony being the largest, took with it, and continued the Portsmouth records. The records of the new town commence April 28th 1639.

MARINE DISASTER--SCHOONER SUNK.

The schooner Pearl, of Dartmouth, Captain Kelley, left this port at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, for New Bedford. At 9 o'clock, when off the "Hen and Chickens," she shipped a tremendous sea, and the vessel was put about for Newport. Tried the pumps and found considerable water in the hold. Off Secommet Rocks the pumps sucked. They were tried again shortly after, and worked until the vessel sunk from under those composing her crew. The latter were taken off and carried into Dutch Island Harbor. The vessel was seen, yesterday morning, with nothing but her topmasts visible above the water, between Beaver Tail and Point Judith.

A few days since, we were shown a very fine specimen of ambrotypes from the Gallery of Messrs. Ware and Clark. These young gentlemen have succeeded in doing a paying business this season, owing to their attention to business and praiseworthy efforts to please, which they have invariably done; although the price of their cheap pictures has been extremely low.

We understand that Mr. Ware will remain in Newport during the winter and that he has leased rooms in the Narragansett Building, which he intends fitting up for business purposes. Those who want cheap and good pictures had better call on Mr. Ware.

The Galway Steamers, so far as speed is concerned,--have certainly proved, as yet, a decided success, and their trips across the Atlantic are performed with a regularity that bespeaks excellent management,--two things which the public will not be long in discovering and appreciating. These vessels threaten to draw off what of the regular emigrant trade still lingers with the packet ships. The distance between Ireland and America has been practically shortened three days by these vessels. There is talk now of establishing another, to run between Liverpool and this port.--N. Y. Express.

Professor Greene, the author of "Greene's Analysis," and a professor in Brown University, it is said, will be invited to the presidency of Columbia college, near this city.--Washington Union.

Col. Thos. J. Preston has rented the salt works, and his property adjacent in Washington Co., Va., to a New York company, for a term of 10 years, at $50,000 per year.

A couple were recently joined in wedlock in Hamburg, S. C., whose courtship commenced in jail, where one had been confined for stealing pork, and the other for drunkenness.

The royal families of England, France and Portugal are all expecting an increase this year.

A little rising two hundred and thirty year ago, twenty-four dollars purchased the entire city and county of New York.

A young lady, 15 years of age, sent to the State Fair in Connecticut, a quilt containing ten thousand pieces.

The water in the Passaic river, at Little Falls, N. J., is said to be lower than ever known before.

It is estimated that six years will be required to complete the Hoosier tunnel, on the Troy and Greenfield Railroad.

Four hundred and sixty-eight thousand of the colored slaves of the South are church members.

The receipts of the New York State Fair, this year, were $9,000 less than those of last year.

THE TWO ANGELS.

BY HENRY W. LONGFELLOW.

Two angels, one of Life and one of Death,
Passed our village as the morning broke
The dawn was on their faces, and beneath
The sombre houses heaved with plumes of smoke.
Their attitudes and aspects were the same,
Alike their features and their robes of white;
But one was crowned with amaranth, as with flame,
And one with opheodels, like flakes of light.
I saw them pause in their celestial way,
Then said I, with deep fear and doubt oppressed,
Hail not so loud, my heart, least thou betray
The place where thy loved ones are at rest!

And he who wore the crown of opheodels,
Descending, to my door began to knock,
And my soul sank within me, as in wells
The waters sink before an earthquake's shock.
I recognized the welcome agony,
The terror, and the tremor and the pain,
That oft before had filled or haunted me,
And now returned with threefold strength again.

The door I opened to my heavenly guest,
And listened, for I thought I heard God's voice;
And, knowing that so he sent was best,
I bared neither to lament nor to rejoice.
Then with a smile, that filled the house with light,
"My errand is not Death, but Life," he said,
And ere I answered, passing out of sight;
On his celestial embassy he sped.

"Twas at thy door, O friend! and not at mine,
The angel with the amaranthine wreath
Pausing, descended, and with a voice divine
Whispered a word that had a sound like Death.
Then fell upon the house a sudden gloom,
A shadow on those features fair and thin;
And softly, from that hushed and darkened room,
Two angels issued where but one went in.

All is of God! If He but wave his hand,
The misty collets, the rain falls thick and loud,
Till, with a smile of light on sea and land,
Lo! He looks back from the departing cloud.

Angels of Life and Death alike are his;
Without his leave they pass no threshold o'er;
Who, then, would wish or dare, believing this,
Against His angels to shut the door?

LOTTERIES.—The well known Maryland Consolidated Lottery of which H. France & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the manager call attention to, is, that all persons have a full right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every 12th of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1.00 to $20.—No tickets, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertiary combination: Prices vary in amount from $20 to 1000,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over. Address
